Our industrial workwear is highly recommended by long-term users for their sturdy yet flexible construction, unbeatable price-performance ratio, comfort, and reinforced durability, making them an essential for tough everyday work in various trades.

I have been buying these pants for a longer period of time, my trade is plant engineering (sanitation, heating, ventilation). The pants are very sturdy and flexible at the same time, so I can only really recommend them. I always order 5 pairs of pants for myself so that every working day can be started with fresh work pants.

SANITATION WORKER

These pants by TMG are unbeatable in terms of price/performance. Robust, comfortable and with a valuable feel. The fit is good, the wearing comfort as well. I have already ordered them several times in black and khaki.

INDEPENDENT CRAFTSMAN

The robust construction of these pants is immediately noticeable. The material feels durable and durable, which is essential for tough everyday work. I particularly appreciate the reinforcements in the stressed areas, which provide additional protection and extend the life of the pants.
